Insurance Warning:

The motor vehicle physical damage insurance policy you are buying does not allow you to legally drive on the streets of California. Generally, in order to legally drive on the streets of California, you must either purchase a type of insurance called "liability insurance" or deposit a bond with the Department of Motor Vehicles. If you drive this or any other motor vehicle without liability insurance or a bond, a police officer may request evidence of insurance or a bond at the time of a traffic stop. If you do not have evidence of liability or a bond during a traffic stop, the fines can be from several hundred dollars to an amount that exceeds $1,000. If you get into an accident and do not have liability insurance or a bond, you will lose your driver's license for one year. If you cause the accident and do not have liability insurance or a bond, you may have to pay the injured person yourself and these costs may be substantial.

Excluded Vehicles List

Acura NSX, Corvette, Citroen, Delorean, Dodge Viper, Ferrari, Lamborghini, Maserati, Porsche. All Salvage or Foreign imports, vehicles that are not in mass production, Kit cars, Questions call 800-720-0313

I have read this notice and understand that I am about to buy a type of insurance that is available elsewhere and that does not allow me to drive the motor vehicle legally on the streets of California. I also understand that if I drive on the streets of California without liability insurance or a bond, then I may be subject to severe financial penalties, including fines and personal payment for any damage or injury to others I may cause while driving.

Advertencia Sobre Seguro

La póliza de seguro de auto que usted está comprando para amparar daños materiales a su vehículo motorizado no le permite manejar legalmente en las calles de California. Generalmente, para manejar legalmente en las calles de California, usted tiene que comprar un tipo de seguro llamado en inglés "liability insurance" (seguro de responsabilidad civil) o depositar una fianza en el Departamento de Vehículos Motorizados. Si usted conduce este o cualquier otro vehículo sin seguro de responsabilidad civil o fianza, un policía puede solicitar evidencia de seguro de responsabilidad civil o de fianza durante una parada de tráfico. Si usted no proporciona tal evidencia durante la parada de tráfico, las multas pueden ser desde cientos de dólares hasta una cantidad que excede los $1,000. Si tiene un accidente y no tiene seguro de responsabilidad civil o fianza, perderá su licencia de manejar por un año. Si usted causa el accidente y no tiene seguro de responsabilidad civil o fianza, es posible que usted mismo tenga que pagarle a la persona lesionada y estos costos pueden ser muy considerables.

Usted puede comprar seguro de responsabilidad civil así como el seguro necesario para obtener el préstamo para su vehículo motorizado por medio de un agente o corredor de seguro con licencia. El precio de ambas clases de seguro puede ser mayor o menor que el precio del seguro que el concesionario le está ofreciendo. El Estado de California le aconseja que se informe sobre los precios en diferentes compañías aseguradoras ya que los mismos pueden variar considerablemente. Probind puede hacer esto. (800) 720-0313

He leído este aviso y entiendo que estoy a punto de comprar una clase de seguro que está disponible en otras partes y que no me permite manejar legalmente vehículos motorizados en las calles de California.

Asimismo, comprendo que si conduzco en las calles de California sin seguro de responsabilidad civil o sin fianza, entonces es posible que yo esté sujeto a sanciones financieras severas, incluyendo multas y pagos personales por cualquier daño y perjuicio a otros que yo pueda ocasionar mientras manejo.
